

Narrative Photography Assignment

Please bring at least 3 pictures (5 preferred) to class. These pictures should represent important moments in your life.

Picture selection criteria:

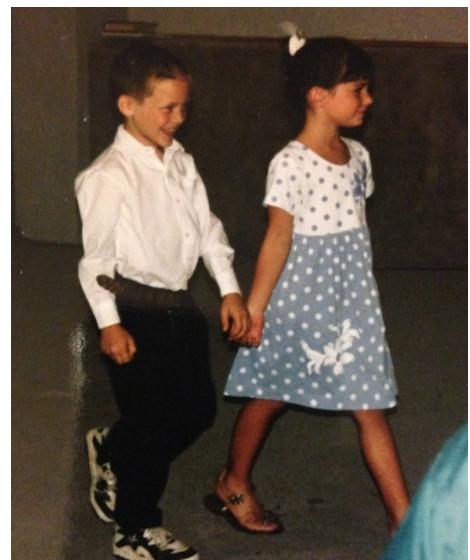

- Two of the pictures can be from the last year, but try and choose the rest from different points in your past.
- Each picture should have some sort of story to tell. (Remember sometimes the best stories are those that seem insignificant at the time, but become something more important to you later.)
- Each picture should relate to who you are in some way, where you are from, and/or who is important to you (it's best if most of your pictures have people in them).
- You may upload the pictures to your Google Drive, or you may bring the physical copies to class. Whichever you prefer.

Example:

Here is an example of some of the pictures that represent important moments in my life. I also included a brief explanation, however you are not required to write an explanation for this part of the assignment.

The day I graduated from Chico State! My middle brother, Travis, and I are the first generation in our family to graduate from college. My other brother, Ryan, came to watch me walk across the stage!

Funny story, my husband and I actually walked together during our kindergarten graduation. Little did we know we'd eventually end up together.

The day I got my dog, Jessye! I'll never forget the day that I brought Jessye home. I remember being soooo excited because I'd never had my very own dog before!
